Overview:

The 281 Series PTO is evidence that Parker Chelsea is constantly investing in developing the world's greatest solutions to solve industry challenges. Chelsea's 281 Series features a ductile iron bearing cap which is 117% stronger than its predecessor. It features an o-ring sealing configuration between the housing and bearing cap to improve clamp load. The thickness of the steel discs within the clutch pack have also been increased by 80%. All of these improvements are focused on reducing the damaging vibrational effects caused by today's and future engine designs.

Over the years, Parker Chelsea has cultivated this PTO design into what it is today. With its improved durability, versatility, power, and ease of maintenance & installation, the 281 Series cannot be beat.
